FOOTBALL SAPE.

So Say Chicago University Men for Middle West.

Chicago, Ill., Jan 18,-Members of the faculty of the University of Chicago helieve the wave of football abolition will not strike the conference colleges of the West. Dr. J. E. Reycroft, acting head of the department of physical culture and Dean Eri B. Hulburt, head of the divinity school and a member of the athletic board, hold that none of the middle west institutions will do away with the game.

I know that we should not think of abolishing the game at Chicago," said Dean Hulburt Tuesday night. "It is by far too good a game to lose. There are too many level-headed men in the West to necessitate doing away with the sport. Reforms are needed, it is true, and it is expressedly for this rea-son that the football conference will be held here on Friday. All talk of abolshing the game at any western college in the 'big nine' is pure nonsense. Prof. Albien W. Small, head of the department of sociology, and one of the most influential men on the faculty, de-"It is nonsense to talk of abolishing football. I do not believe any repre-sentative of the conference colleges will advocate abolishing the game of the meeting on Friday, I am certain Chicago will not. Changes in rules will not do away with brutality or roughness in football. It is the men behind the game, the officials and the spirit of the universities that count."

Boston, Jan. 18.—Jimmy Collins, captain and manager of the Boston American League Base Bull slub, arrived in town yesterday and gave out a bunch of information relating to his team. The most important was this:

Collins has just signed a contract to captain and manage the Boston club for a period of three years. The terms were practically the same as he has been working under since John I. Taylor acuired control of the club and are enfirely satisfactory to Collins.

Collins met Taylor in New York three das ago and it did not take long for them to come to an understanding. After affixing their aignatures to a con-tract Collins and Taylor had a long talk on the plans for the coming season, and Mereccan Minister at the Big Conference at Algericas.
